

makes the daughter-in-law cry

Winner of the Clockwise Chapbook Prize

DANIELLE MITCHELL is the author of Makes the Daughter-in-Law Cry selected by Gail Wronsky for the 2015 Clockwise Chapbook Prize. She has also been awarded the 2015 Editor's Prize from Mary and the 2014 Editor's Choice Award from The Mas Tequila Review. Her work has appeared in Hayden's Ferry Review, Eleven Eleven, Harpur Palate, Animal, Freeze Ray, The Leveler, Nailed, and others. She received her Bachelor's Degree in Creative Writing and Women's and Gender Studies at the University of Redlands and is a member of the Community of Writers at Squaw Valley. Danielle is the founding director of The Poetry Lab in Long Beach, California.

For more information visit poetryofdanielle.com

For bookings please contact mitchell.danielle@hotmail.com

"new worlds of wonder and absurdity with a dark brilliance..."
- GAIL WRONSKY

©2017 Tebot Bach
tebotbach.org
Huntington Beach, Ca

Distributed by Small Press Distribution, Armadillo, and Ingram Publisher: Mifanwy Kaiser mifanwy.kaiser@gmail.com